

Disclosure Policy

The National Lymphedema Network collects the relevant data for the learning activity from faculty members. This process includes the completion of a survey whereby faculty must share any and all relevant disclosures. Attestation is as follows: "I acknowledge that if I have any financial or non-financial interests to disclose, I must clearly include the statement at the start of the presentation." If faculty members have disclosures, they must be listed at the time of the survey, and the National Lymphedema Network will review them and determine if any reconciliation is necessary.

Each disclosure must address three components:

- (1) instructional personnel's name,
- (2) whether there are relevant financial relationships (or not) and
- (3) whether there are relevant nonfinancial relationships (or not).

Registrants are informed of any disclosures at the end of each speaker's bios on the designated event page on our website. The information will be available for clinicians to make an informed decision about whether or not to join the event.
